Dear Dr. Mukherji,

I write to follow up on our meeting of this afternoon. Consistent with our conversation, I am suspending you from your role as Department Chair effective immediately pending a review of concerns that have been expressed about your leadership and departmental communications. It is my expectation that you will cooperate fully with that review and any other pending investigations and will refrain from any actions that might be viewed as retaliatory against individuals who brought concerns forward.

During the period of your suspension you will have no assigned duties and should not engage in any activities that would normally fall within your role as Department Chair.
